PREFACE.

In compliance with the wishes of many Subscribers, who argue that the publication of the Calendar at short intervals would be more convenient, the present Supplement has been prepared. In introducing it, little more need be said, than that it has been arranged on much the same plan as its predecessor, only that from the greater, as later, interest attached to them, all the Chases have been given in full. In other features it is necessarily similar to the first volume, regarding the reception of which, the Editor may perhaps be pardoned a word or so, less on his own account, than that of the work he has been engaged in. From various quarters, through the publisher and otherwise, it has been his pleasure to find the good word bestowed upon his labours, and generally from those best qualified to give it. For the Rules and Regulations more particularly, he can boast of the most unqualified approval from the very highest quarters; amongst others, the Stewards of the last Windsor Chases, who decided the objection to the winner of the Grand Handicap avowedly by the eighth Rule of the Calendar, and thus established the whole as an authority, that it may be not unimportant to make more generally known.

To the gentlemen who have as courteously as ably favoured him with their assistance, the Editor has again to return his grateful acknowledgments, while in the approved fashion of thanking for favours, he takes the opportunity of asking for more. Regular returns of Sport in all parts of the United Kingdom, with "the Names, Weights, and Colours of the Riders," and, may he add, a little more attention to the number of Subscribers, will be as acceptable as ever; suggestions as to improvement received in the same good spirit which forwards them, and the correction of error acted upon, if not with pleasure, at least with a full sense of the compliment and attention.

Capt. Powel's Regalia (late Forty-two), by Dr. Faustus, aged - - -	Owner.	0
Mr. Rolt's Railroad (late First Trinity), aged -	Owner.	0
Mr. C. Barnett's b. g. Mameluke, by Economist, aged	Mr. Peck.	0

4 to 1 agst Regalia, 5 to 1 agst Mameluke, 5 to 1 agst Railroad, and 5 to 1 agst Marengo. Won very easy. Marengo made most of the running. Rolla stopt at the third fence, Mameluke at the fourth, and Regalia, who led up to that point, refused the fifth, and when at length forced over it fell and got away. Railroad also fell and got away from his rider; and Sir William by an extraordinary effort cleared some very strong posts and rails, which no other horse in the chase attempted.

NOVEMBER 21st. A Handicap Sweepstakes of 25 sov. each, 15 ft., and 5 only if declared &c., with 100 sov. added by the town and neighbourhood of Newport Pagnel; the second saved his stake; any gentlemen riding, qualified for the Aristocrat allowed 5lb. four miles. (33 subs, 17 of whom paid 5 sov. each.)

4 to 1 agst Vanguard, 6 to 1 agst Pioneer, and 7 to 1 agst Eagle. Won easy by four lengths, Regalia about the same distance from the second, and nearly a length before Veluti. The running was made chiefly by Wiverton and Regalia. Culverthorpe overjumped himself at the first set of hurdles and got away, and Cinderella swerved at the second fence and knocked Boxkeeper, The Roarer, and Vanguard, into a deep ditch, the latter getting away and losing an immense deal of time and ground before he was remounted. Chance refused the sixth fence, the Roarer fell at the first wall, and Wiverton at the second, where Pioneer was crossed in rising and also fell.

A Sweepstakes of 5 sov. each, with 25 added, for all horses; 12st each; the winner to be sold for 200 sov.; if entered to be sold for 150 allowed 7lb., if for 100, 14lb; to be sold by auction after the race, and any surplus over the selling price to go to the racing fund; gentlemen riding, qualified as for the Aristocrat, allowed 5lb. four miles. Mr. Hall's b. g. Prince - - -	Owner.	0
Mr. Austen's b. g. Young Pilot - -	Owner.	0
Capt. Lee's bk. g. Paragon - - -	Owner.	0

Won cleverly. The running was made chiefly by Nonsense and the Prince; the latter dislocated his fetlock, and injured himself so severely in other respects, as to render it necessary to destroy him. Tory was objected to, his rider not going to scale immediately after the chase; the objection, however, was not, we believe, persisted in, the chase being considered a private one.

Another Sweepstakes was won easy, by Mr. Davidson's ch. g. (Roffee) beating Baron Rothschild's ch. m. Economist, and four others.

Mr. Lambden's Pickwick and Mr. Compargill's Pickwick were entered but not permitted to start, having already won steeple chases, and Aristides was objected to after the chase as having won at Dartford and Farningham. It is the same horse that ran there as Mr. Poole's Manchester, and the stake is still in dispute, the decision of it depending on that to the first objection. Aristides made all the running and won easy. Rebecca, Benvolio, Laurel and Fusilier fell, and Benbow refused. The winner was claimed.

A Sweepstakes of 5 sov. each, with — sov. added, for horses which have been the property, for two months previous to the day of running, of members, or sons of members of either Crockford's, Brooks's, White's, Boodle's Arthur's, Army and Navy, Eglinton Park, Croxton Park, Bibury, Oakley, Leamington, or Herts Clubs, or of officers on full pay in the army and navy, and ridden by the same; any horse having won any steeple chase of the value of 250 sov. not to be allowed to start; gentlemen riders; catch weights (not under 10st.); the winner to be sold for 50 sov. two miles. Capt. Pryce's ch. g. Jack Sheppard - -	Owner.	0
Capt. H. B. Powell's b. m. Louisa - -	Mr. Clifton.	0

Won cleverly by three lengths. The running was made chiefly by the first and second. Marie and Louisa fell, and Jack Sheppard and Waterlily refused.

A Sweepstakes of 2 sov. each, with £10 added, did not fill.

APRIL 8th. Mr. R. Clifton's Cornelius, 11st. (Owner) beat Lord Glamis's Eugene Sue, 11st. 9lb. (Owner) in a match for 100 sov. Won easy. The running was made alternately, Eugene Sue falling when in front, at the last fence.

A Handicap Sweepstakes of 25 sov. each, 15 sov. forfeit, and only 5 sov. if declared &c., with £100 added by public subscription, the second saved his stake, the winner paid 25 sov. towards expenses; gentlemen riders, qualified to ride in the first race of the first day, allowed 5lb. (24 subs. 2 of whom paid 5 sov. each). three miles.

Salute and Pioneer the favourites. Won easy. The running was made to the Chalvey Grove brook by Tramp, and from that point to within two fences of home, where he fell, by Carlow. The winner was objected to by the rider of Evergreen as having gone on the wrong side of a flag, which was however put up after the line had been shown, and the Stewards consequently decided by the fourth rule of steeple chasing (see the first volume of the Steeple Chase Calendar) that such an objection could not be entertained.

The Aristocratic Chase of 10 sov. each, h. ft., with £20 added; 11st. each; the winner of the Brigade Cup 12lb. extra; the second saved his stake; a winner of any steeple chase of the value of 100 sov. TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE

THE EARL OF STRATHMORE

AND KINGHORN,

My Lord,

A reference to the following pages will show how appropriately and favourably they are introduced. The best argument, perhaps, the advocate for the Steeple Chase could find would be your Lordship's career through the past season—a patronage not confined to name or the mere passive pleasure of the spectator, but extending to active participation in the sport itself. With, moreover, a result that stamps the Steeple Chase at once as a pastime in which the English gentleman may not only indulge, but excel—as one where success implies the presence of the greatest courage, temper, and skill—and where even defeat becomes honourable from the personal prowess and distinguished merit to which it now so often succumbs.

It is, too, by such active influence as your Lordship's that the prejudice against the Steeple Chase will gradually decline. The purest of fox-hunters will begin to hesitate ere they condemn a sport which numbers so many of the best men from their own ranks, and which advances in every way their one favoured pursuit. The prizes given in Steeple Chasing are nothing more nor less than premiums for producing the most perfect hunters; as the fame which awaits the gentleman rider who can prove his ability by such a test, is both the incentive and the means for making superior horsemen.

Anything bravely attempted is sure to command the sympathy of the public; your Lordship's triumphs have consequently been a source of general satisfaction. That they will in their effect and example tend much to benefit the sport, all admit; while that they may continue as they have commenced is the earnest desire of many, and of none more sincerely than of

Your Lordship's greatly honoured,

Obliged, and very humble Servant,

HENRY CORBET.

PUBLISHED BY

Henry Wright, Agricultural and Sporting Library,

51, HAYMARKET.

WRIGHT'S IMPROVED GAME BOOK, or SPORTSMAN'S REGISTER. A New Edition, 4to, half-bound. Price 5s., 10s., and 15s., for One, Two, or Three Year Books.

Those at 10s. and 15s. each are now bound in a superior manner, and have blank-leaves inserted for additional observations and memoranda.

 This work is similar to those kept at Holkham, Cheveley, and Raby Castle, and consists of Printed Forms, by means of which an accurate Daily Account may be kept of the different kinds of Game, when and where killed, during the Season; as also a Present Register, showing how the same has been disposed of, forming a complete Journal of the Sports of the Field.

OBSERVATIONS ON DOG-BREAKING. By WILLIAM FLOYD, Gamekeeper to the late Sir John S. Sebright, Bart. 8vo. New Edition, 1s. 6d.

"The amateur can never do better than break his own dogs; and if such be his determination, I would strenuously recommend him to purchase a Treatise on Dog-breaking by W. Floyd, Gamekeeper to Sir John Sebright, a work both cheap and excellent"—Capt. Lacy's Modern Shooter, p. 159.

OBSERVATIONS UPON HAWKING; describing the Mode of Breaking and Managing the several kinds of Hawks used in Falconry; comprising Partridge, Magpie, Rook, and Heron Hawking, with a description of the various Implements and Practices used in Reclaiming and Breaking them. By the late Sir JOHN S. SEBRIGHT, Bart. 8vo. 3s. 6d.

Speaking of the Peregrine Falcon, "Our limits will not allow us to enter into any account of the modes of flying it at Herons, &c., and we must refer the reader to Tuberville, among the old writers, and to Sir John Sebright as the best of the modern authors on the subject."—Penny Cyclopædia, vol. x., p. 182.

See also Yarrell's British Birds, pp. 28, 33, 36, 63, 68.

OBSERVATIONS UPON THE INSTINCT OF ANIMALS. By the late Sir JOHN S. SEBRIGHT, Bart. 8vo. 6d.

A TREATISE ON THE INFLUENZA OF HORSES, showing its Nature, Symptoms, Causes, and Treatment; embracing the subject of Epizootic Diseases generally, with the experience of many eminent Veterinary Surgeons, and containing a Critical and Impartial Analysis of the opinions of others, together with the Author's own views and experience. By W. C. SPOONER, M.R.V.C. With an Appendix, containing a full account of the Influenza of 1840, and bringing the work down to the present state of Veterinary Science. Second Edition. 12mo. Price 2s. (published at 4s.)

"Mr. W. C. Spooner has written a valuable work on the late epidemic complaint in the horse."—Professor Sewell's Lectures.

"Full of extremely useful information on the treatment of this dangerous disease, and well worth attention."—Bell's Life.

"It will be highly esteemed by the veterinary practitioner, and read with interest by the medical man, and by every one that has to do with horses."—Veterinarian.

HARDING'S FARMER'S ACCOUNT BOOK. A New Edition. Price 21s. for a Year, or 10s. 6d. for a Half-year's Book.

 This work consists of Printed Tables, by means of which the keeping of Farming Accounts is rendered easy to the most moderate capacity. Any Farm Servant who can write may hereby keep an accurate Journal of Daily Occurrences, an Account of Labour performed, of Monies paid and received, of the Increase or Decrease of Live Stock of every kind, Dairy Account, and the Produce and Consumption of Corn, Hay, Potatoes, &c., &c.

THE SPORTING REVIEW;

A Monthly Journal of the Turf, the Chase, and Rural Sports in all their varieties.

Nine years ago this work was started for the purpose of giving to the National Sports of this country an organ worthy their national importance and popularity. It took the field with a corps of contributors—veterans of experience and skill in the departments to which they attached themselves. For the first time, the details of the chase were treated of by masters of hounds; members of the Jockey Club wrote about the Turf; the most eminent of our amateur sailors discussed yachting; the leash, the trigger—all our rural pastimes—were dealt with by men of acknowledged authority. Under such auspices its apprenticeship was passed; and the public voice has bestowed on it the character of a "good and faithful servant." In that capacity it discharges the grateful duty of offering its acknowledgments for favours heretofore awarded, and ventures to hope for a continuance of that success which it will be its earnest effort to endeavour to deserve. No periodical in any branch of literature is more characteristically represented by those who contribute to its pages; no journal is more beautifully embellished: none more carefully constituted, with reference to the treatment of popular and seasonable subjects. In the course it has so long run, its race will be continued. It will keep a steady pace—ever make play when fitting opportunity occurs. On the first of every month it will be found at the post, as its trainer brought it out from the commencement of its career, sightly to look at, with plenty of good stuff about it, sound wind and limb, and eager to strain every sinew for the prize of public approbation.

N.B.—Vol. XVIII., with thirteen Steel Engravings, is just out, price 16s. 6d., handsomely bound in Cloth, and may be had of every Bookseller in the Kingdom.

Published monthly, price Half-a-Crown, at the "Sporting Review" Office, 24, Norfolk-street, Strand, London, where all communications for the Editor, and works for review, should be addressed.

PORTRAITS OF EMINENT BRITISH FARMERS,

Highly Finished on Steel, from Original Drawings,

WITH BIOGRAPHICAL MEMOIRS,

Appear in Succession in

THE FARMER'S MAGAZINE,

AND JOURNAL OF THE AGRICULTURAL INTEREST.

Published Monthly. Price Two Shillings.

The FARMER'S MAGAZINE contains One Hundred and Ninety-two Columns of closely-printed letter-press, contributed by the most distinguished Professors of Agriculture, the most eminent Practical Farmers, and the most Scientific Chemists of the day, whose articles are illustrated with Original Designs, regardless of all cost, which still more considerably enhances its value, and cannot fail to produce the most profound sensation in the mind of every Farmer, not one of whom ought to be without it, if he has the advancement of the vast interest of British Agriculture at heart. The forthcoming numbers will be beautifully embellished with numerous highly-finished

Steel Engravings of

PRIZE ANIMALS,

And New and Improved

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

To which Prizes were awarded at the meetings of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, and at the shows of the Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland, and the Yorkshire Agricultural Society. Farmers, Graziers, and Breeders of Cattle thus obtain the two-fold advantage of acquiring the readiest information in reference to the selection of Animals, either for purchase or hire, most likely to improve their stock, and are made early acquainted with all the practical improvements in husbandry and farm management.

May be had of every Bookseller in the United Kingdom.

FIELD SPORT; AS IT WAS, AND AS IT IS.

Perhaps in all that advancement and improvement which has and does characterize "the days we live in," no part or parcel of the whole has continued to progress more favourably than our sports and pastimes. Field sport has gradually reached its acmé of excellence. Its objections have vanished quite in proportion as its recommendations have increased: and thus, taking its hue from the spirit of the age, it has becomes a pursuit that tends to refine as it essays to amuse. The brutalities and excesses too long attached to "the gentleman's recreations" have happily passed into tradition: the very eccentricities of the order are now seldom observable, while the highest ardour is allowed to be compatible with the nicest discretion. The sportsman, in fact, no longer forces his theme forth as the great toe of society; but has shown that the best men, as in many other spheres, are often the least intrusive, and that accomplishments and abilities are never so successful as when they travel together. The man who can lead in a run shall shine equally at a court; and the handicapper of the high-mettled have a voice in the House and a weight in the scale.

On these terms it is that "The Sporting Magazine" claims to represent that interest it has so long and so zealously studied. To stand on its committee, the Proprietors feel that "the sportsman" and "the gentleman" are titles that should ring the changes well on each other; and while they put forth "the practical" as the great feature in their entertainment, they still think that the solid cannot be but improved by the embellishment of the scholar, or the seasoning of the humourist. The proof of this pudding they gladly leave to the eating, confident that the distinguished artistes engaged can furnish a variety that shall combine the strength of the substantial with the sometimes more catching arguments of lighter materiel.

To enter here on any minute detail of the plan of the work would be both tedious and superfluous; sufficient be it to say that a certain portion of the Magazine is devoted to a succession of periodical papers that have a freshness on their immediate publication, and an interest, in the way of reference, for any later period. Amongst these may be named "The Racing for the Month," when Craven attends as the authority for pen, and Herring, sen., for pencil—"The Hand-book of the Chase," "The Amusements of the Month," "Sporting Intelligence," "Literature," "State of the Odds," and "Diary for the Month," all fully described and marked with that stamp an unbiassed consideration of their merits has awarded them. With the more occasional contributions it has been the aim to work as far as possible in accordance with the seasons, and so let the subjects turn on the Trigger, the Rod, the Leash, the Yacht, or the Bat, when they may hit hardest and be of most service.

"The Sporting Magazine," beautifully illustrated with Steel Engravings by Hacker, Scott, Beckwith, and others, after Paintings by Cooper, R.A., Herring, Sen., Hancock, Bateman, Harvey, Hall, Spalding, and Davis, is published Monthly by PITTMAN, Warwick-square, London. Price Half-a-Crown. May be had of all Booksellers.

THE MARK LANE EXPRESS, AGRICULTURAL JOURNAL, AND TENANT FARMERS' ADVOCATE,

Is the Largest and the Leading Farmers' and Graziers' Newspaper, published every Monday Evening in time for post.

TENANT RIGHT.—In times when the position of the Tenant Farmers has been one of great difficulty, THE MARK LANE EXPRESS AND AGRICULTURAL JOURNAL, has ever been directed to the advocacy and support of THE RIGHTS OF THE TENANT FARMERS. In stating this, it is not intended to lose sight of that noble principle which the great Lord Leicester so successfully followed; viz., that liberal conduct towards the Tenant will ever be found to be the most beneficial to the Landlord.

The object of the Proprietors has ever been to render it in every way the most efficient organ of the Agricultural Class, to collect and diffuse practical and scientific information of all kinds relating to rural affairs.

Office, 24, Norfolk-street, Strand. London. May be had of all Booksellers.

PATRONIZED BY HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE QUEEN

AND HER ROYAL HIGHNESS THE DUCHESS OF KENT.

WILLIS'S MIRIFIC BALSAM,

FOR

BEAUTIFYING, CLEANSING, AND PROMOTING THE GROWTH OF THE HAIR.

W. WILLIS, in claiming attention to the above Important Discovery, which has attained such general patronage both at home and abroad—where its efficacy in promoting a re-growth of the Hair, and the effectual removal of dandriff, has been attended with unparalleled results—presumes to offer a few remarks on its origin. "Cleanliness," says an old proverb and a very true one—"Cleanliness is next to Godliness;" a very virtue, in the absence of which all the much prized attractions of social life become but little enticing, if not indeed actually offensive. That the beauty of the Hair is considered a paramount personal attraction cannot be denied; but how often do we find that, by the injurious resort to cheap, common, and worse than useless compositions, the most baneful results ensue! From the aid of such ill-advised allies it too often happens that the first of Beauty's attributes, the Hair, becomes neglected in depression and despair, or tortured into form and texture absolutely monstrous; an appearance raising a smile of contempt or sigh of sorrow, where all should have been admiration and regard. A continual observance of this, a thorough knowledge of every particular connected with it, and a careful and zealous study of the cause and cure, have produced the Mirific Balsam, a happy combination of the useful and ornamental, that must be applied to be appreciated, and to be appreciated—applauded. That such has been the result, the Inventor has only to refer to the exalted patronage with which he has been honoured, and, further, to the daily increasing demand thereof by the Nobility, Gentry, &c., &c.; an increase which imperatively demands, and for which he now begs to offer, his most sincere and heartfelt thanks.

Mr. Lyndon's ch. m. aged, 12st. (7lb. over) - Justins 0

Even on The Doctor, and 3 to 1 agst Cabanna. Won in a trot; a good race for second. Sparta led to the brook, where she fell, and Cabanna jumped on her, injuring her rider rather seriously; The Doctor then went on with the running, and though challenged once or twice, was never again fairly headed. The chesnut mare fell twice; Cabanna also fell and got away.

The Hunt Stakes of 3 sov. each, with 20 added, for horses regularly hunted with Lord Redesdale's, Earl Fitzhardinge's, or the Warwickshire hounds; 12st. each; a winner of 50 sov. or upwards 7lb. extra. Over the same four miles. (8 subs.)

Mr. Day's ch. g. Counterfeit, aged, 12st. -	Mr. J. Brown	0
Mr. W. Reeves na. b. g. The Unknown, aged, 12st.	W. Reeves	0

The Countess the favourite. Won cleverly by two lengths; Powick a bad third. The running to the first brook was made by The Unknown, where he fell, and was not afterwards persevered with; the Countess then went in front, and, attended by Powick and Clinker, led to the last fence. Fanny and Counterfeit refused, the latter repeatedly.

The Hack Stakes of 1 sov. each, with 10 added; 11st. each; the winner to be sold for 40 sov.; if entered to be sold for 30 sov. allowed 7lb., 20 14lb. Three miles. (12 subs.)

THE RULES OF STEEPLE CHASING.

 The following rules were drawn out by the Editor on the first appearance of the work in 1843, and have since been very generally acted on. They are now reprinted, at the request of many subscribers to the Calendar.

THE aim, object, and practice of Steeple Chasing correspond in the main features so exactly with Racing, that the same Rules and Regulations have generally been found equally applicable to either sport; in some minor particulars, however, the Laws of the Steeple Chase differ or go farther than such as have hitherto been deemed amply sufficient for flat-racing, and the following suggestions have consequently been drawn together from the usual articles appended to Steeple Chase announcements, or from decisions given on disputed points.

1. Any rider during a chase going upwards of one hundred yards on any high road, lane, or public thoroughfare, will, in the event of his coming in first, so disqualify his horse from being considered the winner, on an objection to that effect being substantiated.

2. Any rider during a chase opening any gate or wicket, or passing through any gateway, or purposed and common passage from one inclosure to another, will so disqualify his horse, though placed first, from being considered the winner.

3. Any rider wilfully crossing, jostling, riding at, or driving another from his point while going at a fence, will be disqualified on such a charge being proved by two or more competent witnesses.

4. Any flag, post, or boundary mark placed in the course—no matter by whose order—after the riders have been shown over the ground, or the line pointed out and explained to them, not to be considered binding or of any effect, unless such alteration or addition shall have been particularly named, previous to starting, to all engaged in the chase, by the Steward, Clerk, or some other generally acknowledged and authorized person.

Digitized by Google

5. In the event of two or more horses running a dead heat, and their owners agreeing to a division of the stakes or plate, a formal walk over the course, as in flat-racing, shall not be deemed necessary, but every horse participating in any such division, to be considered, and carry extra weight henceforth, as a winning horse.

6. Conditions using merely the term "Winning Horses" in reference to those liable to extra weight, to be considered as applying only to winners of public steeple chases, advertised or announced as such; and no winner of hurdle or flat races, or match of any kind, to be considered liable to carry the extra weight as a winner, unless words to that effect shall be fully specified in the articles.

7. The term "Maiden Horse" to be considered applicable to any horse which never won a steeple chase, and a "horse that never started," to one which never started for a steeple chase.

8. The term "Gentlemen Riders," if used solely, a custom that should be carefully avoided, to apply or allude only to persons generally received in society as gentlemen; Members of the London leading Clubs, Fox-hunting or Racing Clubs, Officers in the Army or Navy, Barristers, Solicitors, Medical Men, or others so considered by position and profession, and who do not and never have been in the habit of receiving remuneration for riding, either directly or in form of travelling expenses, or any other indirect manner.

9. Any rider falling from or suffering his horse to get away from him, to be at liberty to remount in any part of the same field or inclosure in which the accident occurred; but should his horse not be caught until he had entered another field, then to be ridden or brought back to the one in which he parted with his rider. Any jockey so losing his horse may be assisted in catching and remounting by the spectators, or any other person engaged in the chase, without risk of disqualification; and in the event of a rider being disabled, his horse may be ridden home and take his place the same, by any person of sufficient weight, providing he mount or go back to the same field the first rider fell in.

10. The state of the weather and the ground, in the event of any doubt as to the fitness or safety of running, to be left entirely to the discretion of the Stewards, who may order the chase or chases to be then and there decided as originally fixed, or postponed according to the best of their judgment—all engagements standing, whether decided or put off, just as when first subscribed to; save only with regard to bets, which shall not stand (except by mutual agreement) unless the chase on which they were made) be decided on some day in the same week for which it was first fixed; or on some other day named in the original conditions of the chase.

The following General Rules apply equally to Racing and Steeple Chasing:—

For Stakes or Plates decided in Heats.—When three horses have each won a heat they only can start for the fourth, and in which there is no distance; a dead heat goes for nothing, unless it be between two horses that had already each won a heat; when a plate is won at two heats every horse takes his proper place as he ran in for the second; for the best of the race or chase for which three heats are run, the horse is second that wins one heat; while for the best of the heats, the horse is second that beats the other horse twice out of the three heats, even if he should not win a heat; bets made on a chase run in heats are not decided until the chase be also, except it be specified that the bet was laid on one certain heat; bets made after a heat are void, if the horse or horses betted on be drawn; and all horses so drawn before the event is decided are distanced.

For Weights.—Catch and feather weights exonerate the riders from weighing either before or after the chase. "Give and take weights" are fixing a certain weight on horses 14 hands high, while all above carry extra at the rate of 7lb. for every inch; and all under are allowed in the same proportion. Jockeys to ride their horses to the appointed place for weighing, and any who dismount before arriving at or opposite the scales are distanced, unless disabled by accident or fatigue, when they may be led or carried. Complaints of foul riding or any objections to or allegations of acts committed during the chase which would cause disqualification, to be made at the time of weighing, to the Steward or Stewards, Judge, Clerk of the Chase, or some other person in authority. In weight for age chases, horses starting without producing a proper certificate of their age (if required) to carry the same weight as aged horses. All horses distanced that do not bring in their proper weight, to make up which their shoes or plates will not be taken, neither their bridles, or any other article the jockey omitted to take in with him, should his horse be led away previous to his calling for it.

For Bets and Stakes.—Bets and stakes made in guineas are paid in pounds; bets made between two particular horses are void if neither win, or if made on the best of the race between the two also void should neither of them be placed by the judge; a party laying odds has the choice of a horse or the field; "play or pay" bets are such as are decided whether a horse start or not, and all double events are "play or pay," as are bets on horses mounted and gone to the post; bets are off on the horses on which they were made becoming the property of the same person, party, or confederates; and bets may be declared off on either of the parties refusing to make stakes on being called upon to do so; but no confirmed bet can be declared off on any other ground without the mutual consent of the parties making it; bets on horses disqualified through some omission in or act anulling the entry or nomination are void, except in cases where horses so disqualified start, when bets are determined as the horses come in; bets made by sign or signal on a chase after it has been decided, or on a horse after he has been declared not to start, are void; bets made between horses that run a dead heat and divide, must be taken in the same proportion as the stakes; and if a bet be made on one of the horses running the dead heat against another beaten in the chase, the backer of the former wins half his bet; if the dead heat be the first of a double event, or occur in running a match, all bets on such are void. All stakes to be paid to the clerk or treasurer before starting, or not entitled to receive though coming in first, yet still liable for the whole stakes as beaten horses; on the other hand, bets made on such horses stand and are decided as the horse or horses are placed, the carelessness or culpability of the owner or manager not affecting the mere betting by others on his horse. Any person entering his horse in the name of another, or one altogether false and fictitious, will be equally liable to the stake or forfeit as if entered in his own, and to any consequences or penalties that may arise from such engagements not being paid.

Mr. D. Jones's b. g. The Dentist - -	Mr. Lloyd Evans	0
Mr. Spencer's br. g. The Ashtead Pet -	Mr. Leterrier, jun.	0

The Dentist the favourite. Won cleverly. The running was made by The Dentist and the winner: the former had a fall.

Captain Barnett's India Rubber and Mr. W. Barnett's The Banker were also entered for this chase, but both objected to the qualification of The Dentist. This objection, according to the original conditions of the race, was considered fatal, and all the horses named but India Rubber and The Banker drawn. The above chase was then run by the non-objectors, and India Rubber and Banker ran for the forfeits, which India Rubber won by nearly a length.

5 to 2 agst Alfred, 4 to 1 agst The Victim, 5 to 1 agst Venom, and 7 to 1 agst the winner. Won by three lengths; Alfred beaten a neck for second; Rochester was fourth, and the Rover fifth. The Victim went off in front, but was soon passed by Fanny Gray, who made all the running afterwards, and won without ever being again fairly headed. Ballybar and Venom refused, and were both pulled up; Sir Henry was knocked down early in the chase, and his rider too much bruised to continue it. Prince George fell in crossing a drain, and his rider was stunned, though not further injured. Tom Bowling also fell, and did not run the line through, and Election, being shut out by the crowd who assembled at the different fences, was pulled up. An objection was entered against the winner as having gone on the wrong side of a flag, but it was not substantiated.

The Corinthian Chase of 3 sov. each, with 20 added, for horses regularly hunted, 12st. each; the winner to be sold for 100 sov.,
